/ ABOUT ME

I was born in Puerto San Julián, Patagonia Argentina, on August 11, 1990.

I work as a Senior Software Development Engineer, covering the development and maintenance of the entire system stack, from database scripts to front-end code, through service programming and business logic in back-end.

I'm an enthusiast of good practices, design patterns and code analysis, and - most importantly -, I'm always looking to improve myself and learn new tools and technologies.
